EXPLANATION OF TERMS USED

b stands for "born"; d stands for "died"; m for "married".

O.S.P. stands for obit sine prole, meaning that the descendant whose name these letters follow died without issue; and S. P., standing for sine prole, means that the descendant though living, has had no issue at the date of this book. June 3, 1930.

The families in each generation are arranged in the order of seniority in the line of descent.

A † following the name of a descendant means that the writer has no information concerning such descendant beyond that stated and it is to be regretted that some families are incomplete although reasonable effort was made to procure the data.

The numbers which immediately follow the names of the family indicate the descent in generation from Jean LeMoyne.

To trace Descent: Except for many members of the earlier generations and a few of the later, where information is lacking, every descendant that has married, is represented as the head of a family, the name being printed in heavier type. To trace antecedents, follow the parents number back in each generation until you come to the head of the branch.

EXAMPLE:

- (67) Le Moyne White, parents number is 38.
- (38) Edith Le Moyne, parents number is 13.
- (13) McPherson Le Moyne, parents number is 2.
- (2) Benjamin Henri Le Moine, parents number is 1.
- 1 Benjamin Le Moine, head of this branch, (see (51). Chap. VII).

To trace descent from Jean Le Moyne, turn to Jean Baptiste Le Moyne. Chap. VII.

- (51) Benjamin Le Moine, parents number is 36.
- (36) Jean Baptiste Le Moyne, parents number is 15
- (15) Jacques Joseph Le Moyne, parents number is 4
- (4) René Alexandre Le Moyne, parents number is 1
- 1 Jean Le Moyne, first ancestor in Canada.

LE MOYNE DES PINS

FOREWORD

The following pages have been prepared with the desire of sharing with the family the few facts that have been collected concerning our ancestors, Jean Le Moyne des Pins and his descendants. To have brought down to date a record of descent of all of the children of our first Canadian ancestor would have been a task too great for the leisure moments of the writer, therefore, in the first four generations the direct line of descent, with one exception, has been adhered to. This work is not a history of our family, rather, it is a compilation of facts and data, drawn from the records of Montreal, Boucherville, Trois Rivières and Québec. Parish and family records have been used, also libraries and in some cases the information has been obtained from tombstones. In cases where records differ concerning the same name or dates, that one which seems to rest upon the highest authority has been selected. Errors in a work of this kind are inevitable and corrections will be cordially welcomed.

The notes on the de Longueuil family together with the descent of the Barony is given to show that the lineal descent of the two families is distinctly separate. The probable relationship is mentioned elsewhere.

At just what date and for what reason the spelling of our family name was changed from Le Moyne to Le Moine, has not been possible to establish satisfactorily; but it is generally supposed to have taken place during the latter part of the life of Jean Baptiste Le Moyne and the change in spelling was probably adopted by his children. The original spelling was Le Moyne, and it appears as such in the old documents and records of France and in many of those of Canada. A little later both ways of spelling the name were used, until Le Moine spelled with an "i" came into more general use. At the request of their father, the sons of Benjamin Henri Le Moine adopted the original way of spelling the name. In this work the name has been spelled as it probably was at that time. Many of the older generations dropped the name Le Moyne entirely and used only des Pins.

I wish to acknowledge my debt to the late Sir James M. LeMoine for his Memoir de Famille, which work has given us many interesting and valuable facts and to express my warm thanks and appreciation for the help given by Mlle. Marie Louise (Louis) Le Moine of Quebec and to Mrs. Frank B. F. Rhodes of Quebec and to the various members of the families represented in the work, who have so very kindly given information, also to my husband, without whose help this work could not have been accomplished.

CHAPTER II

PITRES, FRANCE

During the latter part of May 1920, I visited the beautiful little parish of Pitres, which is situated on the banks of the River Seine, not far from Rouen. This was the birthplace and home of our ancestor, Jean Le Moyne.

Leaving Rouen for Pont de l'Arche, by train, the journey was continued by a branch line to Pitres, a distance of five kilometres.

Pitres is a small hamlet of distinctly Norman type, surrounded by beautiful rolling hills and verdant fields. The sixteenth century church is still well preserved and was no doubt the church in which our ancestor was baptized. A careful examination of the grave stones in the cemetery surrounding it, failed to reveal the name of Le Moyne upon any of those that were still legible. The old chateau is now serving a double purpose, part being used for the Maire, while the other part serves as the village school. The ruins of the fortress are no longer to be seen although evidence of the former grandeur and importance of this parish are not lacking. To-day, as it lies in the quiet valley, it is almost forgotten. The thatched roofed houses, many of them of great age, the lovely and colorful gardens and the superb old trees, blending with the simplicity of life made a charming picture. I was unable, however, to find any information regarding Jean Le Moyne and was told that no one by the name of Le Moyne was then living in the parish, although one very old man told me that he remembered a family by that name, the last of whom had died many years ago. How often must our courageous ancestor have longed for the beauty of his Norman home which he was destined never to see again.

In 1881, the late Sir James M. Le Moine of Quebec, made a journey to Pitres for the express purpose of obtaining information in regard to the Le Moyne family, but found little of value.

CHAPTER III

LE MOYNE DES PINS

We have little information regarding the Le Moyne family in France. It would doubtless prove a futile search, were one attempted, due to the fact that nearly all the notarial and parish records were destroyed during the Reign of Terror. A careful study, however, of the facts will convince one that a link might be traced between the Le Moynes of Canada and the noble and influential House of the Counts of Normandy. The armorial bearings handed down to us as those of Jean Le Moyne were no doubt the modified arms of the Counts of Normandy, a proof of his right to them, as those were not days when the armorial bearings of others were used without the right to do so.

The laws, in force in France before the Revolution of 1789 regarding the French nobility, were very severe. The nobility were prohibited from entering business or trade, although later "le Haut Commerce" was allowed. Those who could obtain a commission in the army or navy, did so, while those who could not and were without adequate means of support, were forced to resort to other means of livelihood, which placed them in the ranks of the roturiers. The eldest son in the family of a French nobleman inherited both the title and the lands, the other sons being forced to shift for themselves. These untitled noblemen were as proud as their more fortunate brothers and formed a class in which were found many of the scions of the proudest families of France. The House of the Counts of Normandy was among the nobliest and most ancient of the Province. One of their forebears was Jean de Salagne, dit le Grand, who left Spain in 1499 for France and whose son, Jacques Le Moyne was the founder of the family in France. This family descended from the illustrious House of des Pins, Spain, the head of which was one of the nine Barons de la Catalogne.

In a letter written by the late Mr. Robert Le Moine of Ottawa, on January 28th 1865, to the late Mr. McPherson Le Moyne, the following interesting facts are disclosed: "Madame de Beaujeu (herself, a Le Moyne de Longueuil) has told me, that among the de Longueueil papers had been found, documents, old and musty, written in the French of the middle ages, referring to the Le Moyne family and establishing the affiliation of Charles Le Moyne de Longueuil to the Counts of Normandy, and were considered by Louis XIV sufficient proof of his identity to that great family, to recognize the name of de Longueuil given by Charles Le Moyne to his properties. The Chevalier de Longueuil also acknowledged to Monsieur de Beaujeu the relationship existing between the family of Jean Le Moyne des Pins and Charles Le Moyne de Longueuil." This information has been handed down by the two families for generations.

Monsieur l'abbé Ferland says in his "Notes sur les Registres de Notre Dame de Québec", "Jean Le Moyne paraît avoir été proche parent de Charles Le Moyne de Longueuil."

JEAN LE MOYNE DES PINS

Jean Le Moyne was born in 1634 or 1640 at Pitres, évêché de Rouen, France, the son of Louis Le Moyne and Jeanne Lambert. He left France in 1655, accompanied by his brother, Pierre, reaching Quebec the same year, where their arrival was registered. He must have left Quebec shortly after his arrival, for we find his name registered at Trois-Rivières, as a colonist, in the year 1656.

On the 24th of July 1662, at Quebec, he married Marie Madeleine de Chavigny, the eldest daughter of François de Chavigny, Seigneur de Berchereau, and Eléonore de Grandmaison. François de Chavigny originally came from Créancey, Champagne, France, and was a man of much prominence in the colony.

During the absence of Governor de Montmagny, of whom he was a close friend, de Chavigny had charge of the administration of affairs. He had come to New France in 1641 accompanied by his wife, Eléonore de Grandmaison. They first lived at Sillery, later we hear of them as residing at their Seigneurie de Chavigny or Deschambault. In 1648 they settled on the L'Ile d'Orleans, where shortly after, they were granted a seigneurie which took the name of fief de Beaulieu. In 1651 François de Chavigny sailed for France hoping to improve his much impaired health, but never returned, having died either during the voyage or not long after his arrival. Eléonore de Grandmaison later married Jacques Gourdeau de Beaulieu and continued living at this Seigneurie, which to-day is still known by the same name. This was probably the first marriage that was solemnized at L'Ile d'Orleans. Monsieur Pierre-Georges Roy, in his delightful and instructive book, "L'Ile d'Orleans", devotes a chapter to Eléonore de Grandmaison, describing the life of this heroic and remarkable woman. The registration of the birth of Marie Madeleine de Chavigny, eldest child of François de Chavigny, brings to light the fact that her godfather was the Noble Pierre Le Gardeur de Repentigny, and her godmother, the spiritual and illustrious Madame de la Peltrie, for whom she was named. Mde. de la Peltrie, foundress of the Ursuline Convent at Quebec, was said to be a cousin of François de Chavigny. It was at this convent that Marie Madeleine de Chavigny was educated. It is also of interest to note that Jean Le Moyne's certificate of marriage was signed by Charles Amiot, Seigneur de Vincelotte and Thomas Douaire, Seigneur de Bondy, also by Monsieur Henri de Bernières, first curé of Quebec. Of this marriage were born nine children, four sons and five daughters. The second son, René Alexandre Le Moyne, is the one from whom we of the present day trace our descent. In 1669, Governor de Courcelles conceded to Jean Le Moyne the seigneurie of Ste. Marie, at Cap de la Madeleine near Trois-Rivières, also the Isle des Pins, which was situated opposite this seigneurie and from which he may have taken his name des Pins or given the island its name.

With this grant he took the title of Seigneur des Seigneuries de Louvraie, et de l'Ile des Pins et des fiefs Ste. Marie, et de Gatineau.

Shortly after the departure of Talon, the Intendant, for France, Governor de Courcelles made an informal grant to Jean Le Moyne of this seigneurie on January 3rd 1669, promising that a legal title should be conveyed to him later. This was done upon the return of Talon to New France in 1672. The informal one which was seldom granted, was done in this case, so that Jean Le Moyne might begin the cultivation of his lands without having to wait for the uncertain return of the Intendant.

Following is a copy of the grant issued by the Intendant Talon on the 3rd of November 1672:

“Acte de concession de Jean Talon, Intendant de la Nouvelle-France, au Sieur Le Moyne, habitant du Cap de la Madeleine, de “trois quarts de lieue de terre sur demye lieue de profondeur, à prendre sur le fleuve St. Laurent, depuis l'habitation des Pères Jésuites jusqu'à la rivière Ste. Anne, supposé que cette quantité y soit”. En fief et seigneurie.”

The Canadian Seigneur was expected to live upon his domain, clear his lands and establish settlers upon them, build a mill for the grinding of grain, act as judge when necessary and interest himself sufficiently in the welfare of his tenants, to insure them the necessities of life. The Seigneur was obliged to render foy et hommage to the royal representative at Quebec, and military service was expected of him although this latter obligation does not appear in the title deeds of the seigneurial grants made by the crown. These obligations gave him a singular opportunity to carry his share of the burden of colonization in New France. The seigneurial system was in force until 1854, when it was abolished, although the seigneurial estate still remains entailed.

Notes taken from an official record of Trois-Rivières, dated 1681, speak of Jean Le Moyne's family, comprising thirteen members, as the largest of the twenty-three families registered. Later, in 1697, he is mentioned as having transferred to the Jesuits, a certain property at Cap de la Madeleine and as having "settled his own affairs."

Our ancestor was a man known for his integrity and honesty, as will be seen by his "sobriquet", "Honnête homme Jean Le Moyne" and the little recorded information concerning him cannot but convince one of the position he held. The Seigneurie of Ste. Marie became the property of his son-in-law, Louis Gastineau, Sieur Duplessis, who had married Jeanne Le Moyne.

Jean Le Moyne des Pins, died on the 25th of December 1706 and was buried at Batiscan, P. Q.. Marie Madeleine de Chavigny, his widow, died on the 14th of October 1721 and was buried in the church at Boucherville, P. Q..

Pierre Le Moyne, the older brother of Jean Le Moyne, who came with him to Canada, married, and had a family of six children. He is mentioned in the records as being at different times at Trois-Rivières, Champlain and Batiscan.

RÉNÉ ALEXANDRE LE MOYNE DES PINS

Réné Alexandre Le Moyne, son of Jean Le Moyne des Pins, was born in the year 1668. We know nothing of his early life and education. He was married on the 2nd of February 1712, at Montreal, to Marie Renée Le Boulanger, daughter of Pierre Le Boulanger, Seigneur de St. Pierre, and Marie Renée de Godfroy de Linctot, whose father, Jacques Le Neuf, Sieur de la Poterie, was Governor of Trois-Rivières and a member of the Noblesse of France.

Upon the marriage certificate of Réné Alexandre Le Moyne appear the names of Chevalier Claude de Ramezay, Governor of the Island of Montreal, of Alexis de Fleury, "Conseiller du Roi" and of Louis D'Ailleboust, Escuyer, Sieur d'Argenteuil.

At the time of his marriage he bore the title of Sieur des Pins et Seigneur de Ste. Marie. It cannot be accurately stated at what date he settled at Boucherville, but it probably was before 1713. Under date of July 9, 1717, he is called Sieur des Pins de Boucherville and mention is made of his having returned from a trip in his canoe to Montreal, in the month of August 1717, after having successfully concluded his treaty, which doubtless was in connection with the fur trade in which he was engaged. Réné Alexandre owned a good deal of property at Boucherville and l'Ile St. Joseph, for which he rendered foy et hommage. He was Capitaine de Milice for many years. In the early days, the influential men in the parish were the Curé, Seigneur, and the Capitaine de Milice. The Capitaines de Milice in the parishes executed the orders of the Governor and the Intendant. It was also their duty to enroll and drill all those capable of bearing arms, to direct road making and other public works.

Réné Alexandre Le Moyne died at Boucherville the 21st of December 1727 where he was buried. Madame Réné Alexandre Le Moyne died at Boucherville the 31st of October 1736 and was also buried there.

The following information was very kindly obtained for me by the Révérende Sœur M. L. O. Dugas, Sup-gén., of the General Hospital of the Grey Nuns, Montreal.

Except for Jacques Joseph Le Moyne, the only other child of René Alexandre that we have any knowledge of, is Marguerite Thérèse, who became a Sœur Grise in Montreal and took the name of Sœur des Pins. I am again indebted to the kindness of Révérende Sœur M. L. O. Dugas for a letter containing a few facts in her life taken from the "Chronicles" of the Institute of l'Hôpital Général des Sœurs Grises, Montreal.

DEAR MADAM :

With pleasure, I communicate to you the information desired in your letter of April 21, concerning Marguerite Thérèse Lemoyne Despins, whom our Institute honors as a Mother.

She was born at Boucherville, P. Q., March 23, 1722, by the marriage of René Alexandre Le Moyne and Marie-Renée Leboulanger. This family lived in comparative ease, as our records say that in the last years of her life, Mother Despins was able, "with her rich patrimony, to share in paying for the Seigneurie of Chateauguay"; a vast area that our Community possesses on St. Bernard's Island.

She had three brothers of whom one was Jacques Joseph. Since her eighteenth year, Marguerite-Thérèse was confided to the care of Venerable Mother d'Youville, our Foundress. June 30, 1753, she became a member of our Institute under the name of Sister Despins. During more than twenty years, she took part in the government of our Society, which was then in its beginnings. After the death of our Foundress, December 23, 1771, Mother Despins succeeded her as Superior General, and exercised this office until her death, that is to say, until June 6, 1792.

Concerning her parents, I can tell you no more than what is contained in the enclosed document.

Signed :

JACQUES JOSEPH LE MOYNE DES PINS

Jacques Joseph Le Moyne, fourth son of René Alexandre Le Moyne des Pins, was born the 16th of July 1719 at Boucherville, P. Q. . He married at Montreal, on the 24th of April 1747, Marguerite Guyon, daughter of Jean Baptiste Guyon, Escuyer, Sieur de Montlevault, and Marguerite Provencher. Probably before the year 1750, Jacques Joseph Le Moyne moved his family from Boucherville to Montreal, where he lived the remainder of his life. He was known as a "Merchant Prince", and amassed an immense fortune. It was said that at the time of the conquest of Canada by the British, he was reputed to be the wealthiest man in New France and to have enough gold to purchase all the seigneuries in the country, which he appears to have contemplated doing at one time, but was deterred by the fear, that the British Government would not recognize the feudal tenure, if all or nearly all the seigneuries were held by one man.

His wife, Marguerite Guyon died at Montreal in May. 1752.

Three years later he married at Quebec, on the 6th of November 1755, Marguerite Robert de la Morendière, daughter of Louis Robert and Marguerite Petit de Livelliers. We know nothing further of his life until 1775; when L'abbé Verreau in his book, "The Invasion of Canada by the Bastonnais", mentions Le Moyne des Pins, pere, (undoubtedly this was Jacques Joseph), as having been chosen with seven others, at a meeting held by the people of Montreal, on the 20th of May 1775 "dans la Plaine de Ste. Anne", to enroll citizens for defense, against invasion by Les Bastonnais, who were pillaging all before them. We have no record of his death nor that of his wife, but both probably occurred in Montreal.

JEAN BAPTISTE LE MOYNE DES PINS

Jean Baptiste Le Moyne was the son of Jacques Joseph Le Moyne des Pins. He was born in Montreal on the 19th of February 1751, and was married at Montreal on the 26th of October 1772, to Louise Judith Dunière, daughter of Louis Dunière, Seigneur de la Gueronnière and Elizabeth Trefflé Rottot. He was an intensely patriotic man, and showed himself true to his new oath of allegiance to the British Crown. L'abbé Verreau speaks of his loyal and brave resistance to the invaders of November 1775. He was taken prisoner by Brigadier Richard Montgomery at Longueuil sometime during the month of November of the same year. He was sent to New York State where his captivity was a miserable and protracted one. All efforts of his countrymen to have him exchanged, failed. The enemy contended that Jean Baptiste Le Moyne des Pins was of too much importance in his own country to allow of his return. He was unable under these circumstances to attend to his large business interests and when released from exile and captivity he found himself ruined financially and broken physically. A letter written by the late Mr. McPherson Le Moyne to the late Sir James M. Le Moine clearly states the situation:

Boston, Mass.,
25 Dec. 1880.

MY DEAR UNCLE :

During the war of American Independance, our ancestor, Jean Baptiste Le Moyne, entered into heavy contracts with the British Government for the supply of provisions for the troops. The unexpected declaration of peace in 1783 found him with an immense amount of flour etc., on his hands at war prices, which fell almost immediately, involving a loss of 75,000 pounds, for which the British Government refused in any way to indemnify him. My late father, who is the authority for these statements which were told him in his young days by old men, used to say that this was the cause of the ruin of our family, which until then had been very wealthy and that most of the family property had to be sold at that time to make good the enormous loss of our ancestor. He often pointed out to me when I was a child, a long wooden house, painted yellow, which used to stand on the north corner of Le Moine and McGill Streets in Montreal and which he said belonged to his grandfather and had been part of the family property.

Your Afft. nephew,
McPherson Le Moyne

We find that about the year 1788, Jean Baptiste Le Moyne left Montreal with his family, settling first at Lac St. François and then at Berthier en Haut, finally moving to Quebec, where he remained until his death, on the 5th of January 1807 at la Petite Rivière St. Charles.

The two sons of Jean Baptiste Le Moyne, whose descendants have been carried down in this genealogical outline, are Benjamin Le Moine and William Henri Le Moine.

Although Jean Baptiste Le Moine, fils, was the eldest son, failure to prove that he left descendants, makes it impossible to carry his line further than has been done in the following account of him.

JEAN BAPTISTE LE MOINE DES PINS

Jean Baptiste Le Moine was the eldest son of Jean Baptiste Le Moyne des Pins and Louise Dunière. At what time he left Canada for St. Louis, Missouri, is unknown, but presumably it was at the time when the settlement again became a part of the French possessions. This part of the country passed into the hands of the United States under the terms of the Louisiana Purchase in 1803.

The register of the old Cathedral at St. Louis shows that his marriage to Céleste Sanguinet, daughter of Charles Sanguinet and Marianne Condé, took place there on May 12th 1812. Owing to the fact that between the years 1810-1812 there was no priest in this small settlement, a civil marriage service had been performed previous to this date as was customary under these circumstances. This same register records the burial, on Sept. 15th 1812, of Céleste Sanguinet, wife of Jean Baptiste Le Moine des Pins, and also on the 18th of October 1813, the burial of their son, Jean Baptiste Le Moine, fils. Thus, in a short space of time, Jean Baptiste Le Moine lost his wife and only child. It is clear therefore that he left no descendants, unless he remarried, and no record of this event has been found.

Three families by the name of Le Moine came to St. Louis in the early days, two from Canada, and one from Virginia. There are many descendants of the last named family there to-day.

I am indebted to the Missouri Historical Society for the above facts.

BENJAMIN LE MOINE DES PINS

Benjamin Le Moine was born in Montreal, on the 30th of September 1785. He was married at Isle aux Grues, P. Q., on the 7th of September 1810 to Julia Anne McPherson, daughter of Daniel McPherson, Escuyer, Seigneur of Isle aux Grues. He served his country as an officer of the Militia in the War of 1812. Having completed his military service he entered the business world as a merchant and for many years was very successful, but later met reverses; he then was appointed Inspector of Marriage and other Licenses. He died at Quebec the 7th of March 1856, where he was buried.

WILLIAM HENRI LE MOINE DES PINS

William Henri Le Moine was born in Montreal, the 24th of December 1787 and was married at Quebec, the 4th of October 1813 to Mary Lindsay, daughter of William Robert Lindsay. He served with the Militia as Lieutenant in the War of 1812. At the close of the war he took up his residence at Chateau-Richer. For many years, he was Commanding Colonel of the Militia in the County of Montmorency, also serving at various times as Mayor, Justice of the Peace and Commissioner of Roads. He retired from the Militia with the rank of Colonel, having been awarded honorable mention. He died at Sillery the 23rd of July 1873.

SIR JAMES MCPHERSON LE MOINE

Sir James McPherson Le Moine, son of Benjamin Le Moine des Pins, was born at Quebec, on the 24th of January 1825. On the 5th of June 1856, he married Harriet Mary Atkinson, daughter of Edward Atkinson. Owing to the death of his mother in 1828, Sir James, with two of his brothers were taken to the home of their grandfather, Daniel McPherson, then living at the Seigneurial Manor at Isle aux Grues, P. Q.. A year later in 1829, his grandfather left Isle aux Grues to reside at St. Thomas de Montmagny. In the autumn of 1838, he entered Le Petit Séminaire de Québec, where he completed in 1845, his course in Belles Lettres under L'abbé P. Bouchy of Paris. The five following years he was connected with the law firm of the Hon. Judge Noël Bossé, as a student, being admitted in 1850 to the practice of the law. In 1854 he became a partner in the firm of Kerr & Le Moine; following this he entered the Inland Revenue Department, and later was appointed Inspector. This service covered a period of fifty years.

It is however, as an author, that Sir James is best known, for he gave to his country, the Canada he so loved, the rich gifts of his mind and pen. His most unusual talent of being able to write equally well in both French and English made his work the more valuable. Nor were his interests confined to history and literature alone, for his love of birds and nature, which resulted in 1860 in the publication of his works "L'Ornithologie du Canada" and his "Causeries Ornithologiques" give ample proof of this. The reading public, however, know him best through his series of Maple Leaves, his Quebec Past and Present, and Picturesque Quebec. These works form only a part of his writings. He was one of the eight founders of the Institut Canadien in 1847. In 1882 he became the first president of the French section of the Royal Society of Canada and in 1894 he was elected president of all four sections of the Society. For many years Sir James was the president of the Quebec Literary and Historical Society, in whose welfare he never lost interest.

On January 1st 1897, Queen Victoria bestowed upon him the honor of Knighthood, in recognition of his distinguished literary contributions and services to Canada. It was a timely honor bestowed upon a citizen in every way worthy of the favor. This Knighthood was the first granted to a French Canadian for other than political reasons.

He was always devoted to the enlightenment of his fellow men, not only the Province of Quebec, but the Dominion of Canada, has been justly proud of him.

He died at his home, Spencer Grange, on the 5th of February 1912.

MEMORIAL AT CHATEAU-RICHER

There has recently been completed within the parish church at Chateau-Richer, P. Q., a beautiful family memorial, the gift of Madame St. Denis Le Moine of Ottawa, in memory of those of the family, who lived and are buried there. The memorial consists of a superb balustrade and gates of bronze, beautiful in design; also, two angels, torch bearers, of white Carrara marble, exquisitely sculptured, one placed at each end of the balustrade in a kneeling position, resting upon a marble pedestal. Within the vault, which has been placed in front of the sanctuary at the communion rail, are buried William Henri Le Moine, his wife, Mary Lindsay, Robert Auguste Le Moine and his wife, Emma J. J. Duchesnay, and J. St. Denis Le Moine and his daughter, Pauline Emma Le Moine. Other members of the Le Moine family are buried within the church.

The top of the vault, which forms the floor of the church, consists of a bronze slab with a border of green Vermont marble and a narrow outer border of black Belgian marble. The name, LE MOINE DES PINS, appears upon the slab with the coat of arms of their family. The floor of light and dark marble squares extends from the step of the communion rail to the first row of center pews. This beautiful memorial will endure for generations to come.

CHAPTER IV

THE SEIGNEURIE OF ISLE AUX GRUES AND THE McPHERSON FAMILY

On May 5th 1646, Sieur de Montmagny, then Governor of New France, received by act of concession, from the king, the Seigneurie of Isle aux Grues and Isle aux Oies, including the surrounding islands and meadows. He sold this property to Pierre de Bécart, Sieur de Granville, who became the first Seigneur. After his death and that of his wife, it passed into the hands of their son, Bécart de Fonville, and then into the possession of the family Le Moyne de Longueuil.

Marie Geneviève Le Moyne de Longueuil, daughter of Paul Joseph Le Moyne, Chevalier de Longueuil, and sister of Joseph Dominique Emanuel Le Moyne, married Louis Lienard de Beaujeu, Seigneur de Villemonde. Monsieur de Beaujeu acquired the Seigneurie from the de Longueuil family and made it his home until his death, which occurred at Isle aux Grues in 1802. Madame de Beaujeu then sold the Seigneurie to Daniel McPherson.

THE McPHERSON FAMILY

Daniel McPherson was born at Fort William, Invernesshire, Scotland, in the year 1753. He came to America at an early age, settling in Philadelphia. He was an ardent United Empire Loyalist, which necessitated his leaving the United States for Canada after the outbreak of the American Revolution, sometime between the years 1775 and 1779. He settled first at Sorel, a United Empire Loyalist settlement, where he married Miss Mary Kelly, who was born in 1762. Shortly afterwards he moved to Gaspé, another United Empire Loyalist settlement. About the year 1802, he purchased the Seigneurie of Isle aux Grues, where he lived until 1829, when he took up his residence at St. Thomas de Montmagny, remaining there until his death on June 1st 1840. He was buried at Trois Saumons, County de L'islet, P. Q. . Mrs. Daniel McPherson died in Quebec the 25th of November 1842 at the age of eighty years.

Of this marriage there is a record of the following children. Charlotte McPherson was born the 18th of March 1781 and was married to Henry Bisset Johnston of Scotland, who was sent to Canada by the Imperial Government, as the first Collector of Customs at Gaspé, P. Q. . Mrs. Johnston died the 9th of April, probably 1861. Their daughter, Caroline, was married at St. Thomas de Montmagny the 16th of January 1836 to Mr. David Vass. Windham Johnston was their son.

John McPherson was born the 2nd of January 1783, probably at Douglstown, Gaspé.

Julia Anne McPherson was born the 17th of October 1788 and on the 7th of September 1810, married Benjamin Le Moine des Pins at the Seignorial Manor, Isle aux Grues.

Laughlan Thomas McPherson was born the 6th of December 1790. He married Margaret Urquhardt, who died at Quebec, the 14th of October 1859. His life was spent in Quebec where he practised his profession of Notary. His death took place at La Petite Rivière St. Charles, Quebec, on the 27th of January 1871. Three of his children married; Ellen became the wife of George Henshaw Holt; Margaret married Charles Gates Holt and Daniel McPherson, the son, married Charlotte Holt Gethings. Two sons of Laughlan Thomas McPherson, John and Laughlan, died in the years 1841 and 1842 at the age of 15 and 19 years respectively.

JOHN MCPHERSON

John McPherson, eldest son of Daniel McPherson, married Sophia Wills in 1803. She was a sister of John Wills and Mrs. Montour, whose husband owned the Seigneurie of La Pointe du Lac, nine miles above Trois Rivières. John McPherson acquired the Seigneurie of Isle aux Grues some years before the death of his father and made it his home until his death on the 7th of March 1847. He was buried at Trois Saumons as was his wife, who died at the Manor the 10th of May 1852. John McPherson was long remembered for the great kindness extended to all who came to his home during his lifetime. Numberless voyageurs, travelling by water, as so many did in those days, and were obliged owing to weather conditions, to seek shelter at Isle aux Grues, had cause to remember the liberal hospitality of this genial Seigneur. It was due to his generous help, financially, that the Catholic Church was built and partially due to his influence that the Bishop of Quebec consented to send a priest to the Parish. John McPherson was survived by his widow and three daughters. The eldest, Melinda McPherson, was born the 29th of November 1806; Mary Juliana McPherson, was born the 9th of September 1808 and Sophia Eliza McPherson was born the 19th of August 1812 and married at Isle aux Grues on the 4th of April 1836, Benjamin Henri Le Moine, eldest son of Benjamin Le Moine. This marriage united first cousins. Upon the death of Mrs. John McPherson, the Seigneurie passed into the hands of her two unmarried daughters, Melinda and Mary McPherson, who were the joint Seigneuresses until their death. The death of Melinda McPherson occurred the 1st of December 1872 and that of her sister, Mary Juliana, the 19th of April 1873. Both are buried at Trois Saumons.

At this time, the name of McPherson as owners of the Seigneurie at Isle aux Grues was destined to change, for it was willed to McPherson Le Moyne, grandson of John McPherson, who made it his home a portion of each year, liberally carrying on the traditions of his forebears during his lifetime. Thus, the old Seigneurial Manor, after several generations, again returned to the Le Moyne name, and it has continued to be the summer home of Mrs. McPherson Le Moyne up to the present time.

CEMETERY AT TROIS SAUMONS

Trois Saumons, the first parish below L'Islet, lies on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River. Here by the roadside, is the small cemetery established by the Harrower and McPherson families many years ago. It was stipulated by these two families, that any person found drowned or having otherwise met death, who had no other place for burial, was to be accorded this privilege here.

CHAPTER V

DE LONGUEUIL

The historical facts concerning Charles Le Moyne, Sieur de Longueuil, and his eleven brave and famous sons and their descendants, are so intimately connected with the early history of Canada, that no mention of them need be made here. However, owing to the fact that a close relationship undoubtedly existed between Charles Le Moyne, Seigneur de Longueuil and Jean Le Moyne des Pins, it is of interest to show the succession of the barony from the first baron to the present time.

The title of Baron was conferred upon Charles Le Moyne, eldest son of Charles Le Moyne, Seigneur de Longueuil, by letters-patent of nobility, and signed by Louis XIV in 1700. In "The Seigneurs of Old Canada", by Dr. William Bennett Munro, he says, "of all the titles of honor, great and small, which the French Crown granted to the Seigneurs of old Canada, that of the Baron de Longueuil, is the only one now legally recognized in the Dominion. After the conquest, the descendants of Charles Le Moyne maintained that, having promised to respect the ancient land tenures, the new British suzerains were under obligation to recognize Longueueil as a barony. It was not however, until 1880, that a formal request for recognition was made to her Majesty Queen Victoria. The matter was, of course, submitted to the law officers of the crown, and their decision ruled the claim to be well grounded. Accordingly, by royal proclamation, the rank and title of Charles Colmore Grant, 7th Baron de Longueuil were formally recognized."
